ASSAM STATE BIO-DIVERSITY BOARD

The earth is a living planet. Life thrives on it as genes, species and ecosystems. The variety of life around us shapes our culture and our traditional practices, that evolve over centuries, impart sustainability to our associations with environment.

Assam State Biodiversity Board has a mandate to empower local people to conserve their biodiversity and benefit from its sustainable use.

The logo of the Assam Biodiversity Board resembles a 'xorai', with a cuckoo bird and pan leaves on its lid. The stem resembles a women and at the base is a strand of DNA.

The 'xorai' a sacred symbol of Assamese culture represents the tree-of- life. The cuckoo, whose melodious voice echoes in the hills heralding spring and the Rongali Bihu celebrations, is an icon of the rich faunal diversity. The 'pan' leaves, widely used in social, religious and medicinal purposes symbolize plant diversity. The stem of xorai is a female figure symbolising fertility, creativity and harmonious relationship of people with environment. The strand of DNA that represents gene diversity, is the base for tree-of- life.
